Topic

We arrived at Adelanto's language community center at noon.

First, we took guidance and learned how to stay in our host family's home.

Then we ate lunch. Teachers prepared big sandwiches, cakes, fruit, drinks, snacks, and so on. We were all full.

After lunch, we walked around the community center. It was hot this day, maybe about 27°C or so. The weather in this area is like a desert.

We took a picture at Adelanto City hall near there at 14:00. We met some staffs in the City hall and had some explanation about Adelanto city.

From 15:30 to 17:00, each host family came to take us to their home.

< From Students' Diary >

I got to Adelanto and ate a special lunch in study center. It was some very big sandwiches! I went to city hall. Today was a very hot day... and the home stay started! When I first met my host family, I was very nervous, but they spoke to me warmly, so I felt a little relaxed. We went to the mall. There were many kinds of shops. In USA, 'candy' means 'chocolate'? I was very surprised. They have many, many movies! I watched one of them, but the English movie was difficult to understand... (Mochizuki Anri, Takefu)

The home stay began. I couldn't communicate well because I couldn't understand what my host said. I wanted to speak in English, but I couldn't speak well. I was very nervous. I was shocked by the differences between Japan and America. I almost felt homesick, but I'll try to enjoy staying in America! I have the welcome Party tomorrow. I want to communicate with others, and I want to dance well! This is the first time to visit a desert region. In the morning, it's cold, but it's hot during the day, so I'm careful not to catch a cold. (Rina Inaba, Tsuruga)
