The lesson about Movies

We went over the homework and then had a lesson about American movies. Through this lesson we realized that movies, music, and love could all be the international language. We also figured out that American culture has had some influences on other culture. We saw more smiles, had more comfortable lessons, and talked more.

Visit to the facilities to keep America safe

We visited the local police department and learned about how they try to keep America safe. We also learned something about gangs in L.A. Then we visited the movie theater and the library. In addition to these, I learned the reason the American flag was just hung halfway up the rope. This was the way of their showing respect to the coworker who passed away.

I searched the Internet to do my homework. Then my host father said to me, "We will watch a movie at a movie theater on Friday. So choose the movie that you want to watch." I was very happy. I'm looking forward to watching the movie. <from Hokuriku SHS>

I made curry with my family. I was able to do it well. My father was pleased very much. Thereasa ate two plates. My mother said "delicious" many times to me. Everybody was pleased and I was very glad. <from Mikuni SHS>

We went in a movie theater. I thought it was much bigger than Japanese ones. In the movie theater some candy and frozen yogurt were sold. I thought it was interesting and different. I felt I wanted to see a movie in an American movie theater very much. I would ask my host family to take me there. <from Fujishima SHS>

I learned many new words such as funds and budget. These two words mean money. I thought staying here is a good chance to increase my vocabulary. I want to try to do it. <from Fukui Shogyo SHS>

The policemen were very tall and they have good muscles. However, they looked very kind. <from Katsuyama SHS>
